IN THIS ISSUE: Unsung Heroes

Someone once claimed they needed a hero. Someone else said they didn't need another hero. Okay, maybe they were both singing at the time… but when it comes to heroes, we love to sing their praises! And that's just what we're doing this month, "singing" the praises of Comics' UNSUNG HEROES. Sure you've all heard of the Bat, the Spider, the Amazon and that guy from Krypton with the hair. But you may not have heard about these heroes; great characters with cool stories, imaginative artwork, and more than enough room in their fan clubs to add YOU to their rosters! We've got a great selection of Unsung Heroes to share with you starting on page 232, then look throughout this issue for the Unsung Heroes icon for more great characters who deserve attention!

FLIPSIDE: 315,360,000 SECONDS AND COUNTING — :01 FIRST SECOND BOOKS' 10TH ANNIVERSARY

Ten years ago, a small publisher with a clever name quietly came onto the comics scene and began doing what they do best: releasing graphic novels for every age and interest. In the decade since their debut, First Second Books has amassed quite a library of titles, featuring works by new creators as well as established veterans. This month, in honor of their 10th Anniversary, PREVIEWS spoke with First Second's Editorial Director Mark Siegel, and Gina Gagliano, First Second's Associate Marketing and Publicity Manager, about their beginnings, their history, and where they're headed in the years to come!

editor's NOTE

SEASONS GREETINGS!

EDITOR'S note

December is here again! Another year has come to an end, and another dozen issues of PREVIEWS have been published and added to my library. Our 327th issue features another great selection of products, sure to please fans of all ages and stripes. Next month, we'll be at it again, hunting down the coolest stuff on Earth and bringing it all to you, at least two months in advance of their shipping to your local comics shop. It's a lot of work, but we all love doing it!

This month's theme find us once again celebrating comics' UNSUNG HEROES… those small press characters that might fall under your radar, but that we genuinely feel deserve readers' attentions. And we've got a nice selection of characters featured on page 232 of this issue, with plenty more to be found throughout this issue — just look for the UNSUNG HEROES icon!

And if you love to get stuff for FREE, then be sure to join us here next month when we will reveal the participating publishers and the all-new titles that will be available for FREE COMIC BOOK DAY 2016 on Saturday, May 7th! We'll have tons of different titles for you to check out, and we'll also be unveiling our annual FCBD Commemorative T-Shirt for 2016, illustrated by one of my all-time favorite artists working today. I'm so glad we were able to get them, and I'm sure they are not going to disappoint!

And finally, on behalf of the entire PREVIEWS crew, as well as the rest of the swell folks here at Diamond Comic Distributors, I'd like to wish you all a Happy Holiday season! As always, it has been my extreme pleasure to help bring you our publication every month, and it's your continued readership that continues to make it all worth the effort!

I hope to see you all back here next month for our first issue of 2016 and the big FCBD 2016 reveal!

Your Pal @ PREVIEWS,

Marty

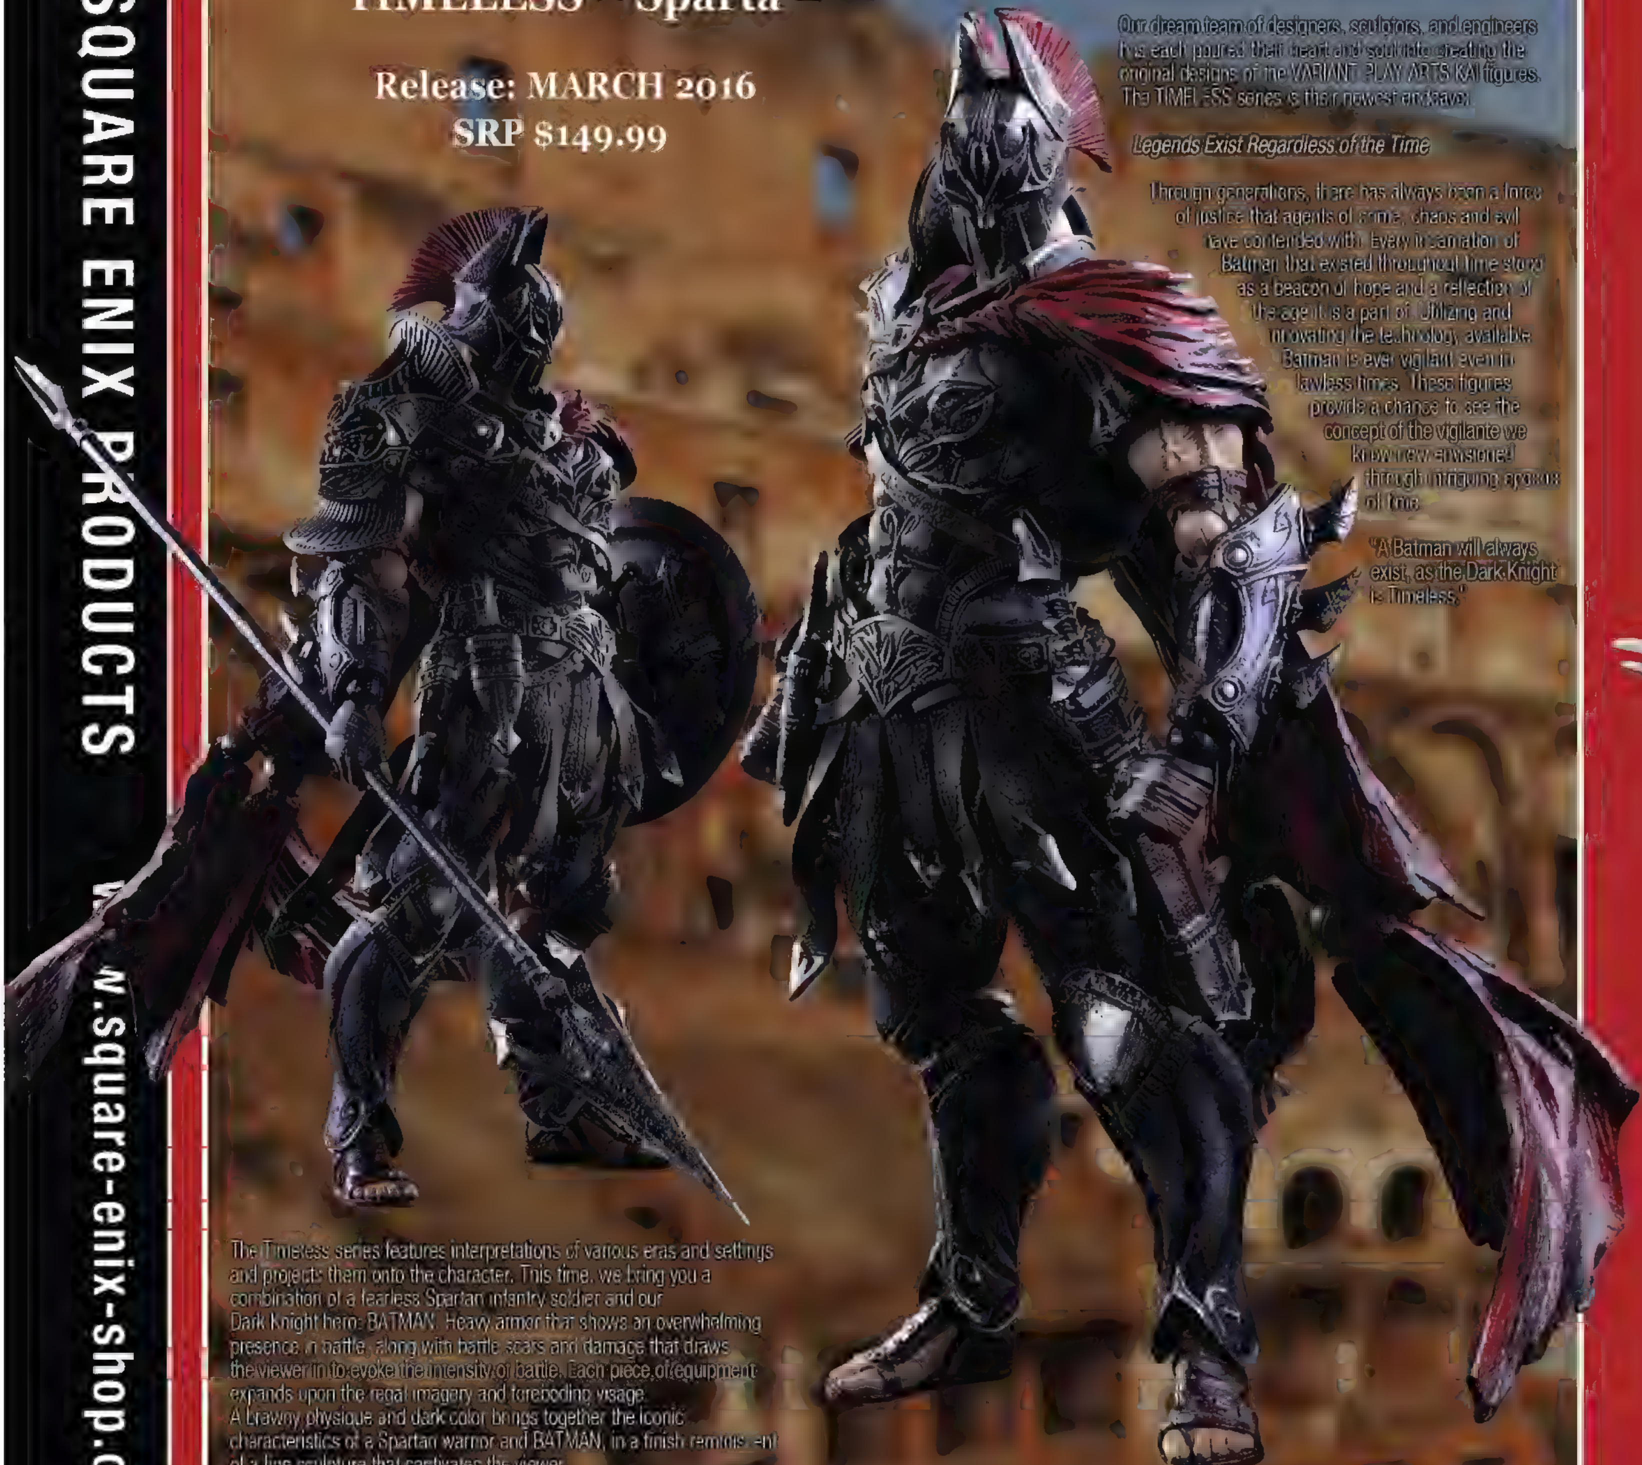
BATMAN™
TIMELESS – Sparta –

Release: MARCH 2016
SRP $149.99



Our dream team of designers, sculptors, and engineers has each poured their heart and soul into creating the original designs of the VARIANT PLAY ARTS KAI figures. The TIMELESS series is their newest endeavor.

Legends Exist Regardless of the Time

Through generations, there has always been a force of justice that agents of crime, chaos and evil have contended with. Every incarnation of Batman that existed throughout time stood as a beacon of hope and a reflection of the age it is a part of. Utilizing and innovating the technology available, Batman is ever vigilant even in lawless times. These figures provide a chance to see the concept of the vigilante we know now envisioned through intriguing epochs of time.

"A Batman will always exist, as the Dark Knight is Timeless."

The Timeless series features interpretations of various eras and settings and projects them onto the character. This time, we bring you a combination of a fearless Spartan infantry soldier and our Dark Knight hero: BATMAN. Heavy armor that shows an overwhelming presence in battle, along with battle scars and damage that draws the viewer in to evoke the intensity of battle. Each piece of equipment expands upon the regal imagery and foreboding visage.
A brawny physique and dark color brings together the iconic characteristics of a Spartan warrior and BATMAN, in a finish reminiscent of a fine sculpture that captivates the viewer.

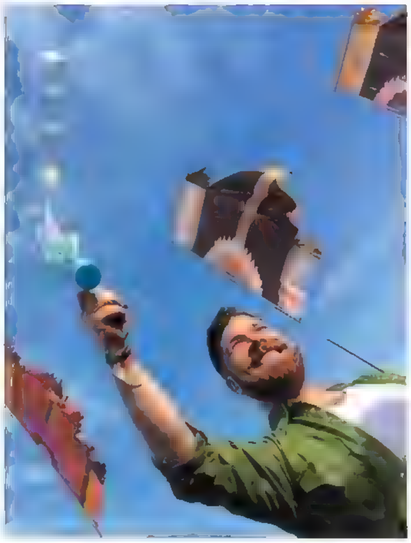
KALMANandrasofszkyKALMANandrasofszkyKALMANandrasofszkyKALMANandrasofszkyKALMANandrasofszky

This month's featured creator is... KALMAN ANDRASOFSZKY



Kalman, please tell us a bit about yourself!
I write the brand-new Captain Canuck comic book series and also provide the covers every month. I began my career producing spot and cover illustrations for roleplaying games such as Dungeons & Dragons, Star Wars, and Vampire: The Masquerade, among others. In 2003 I co-created and illustrated the comic book series iCandy for DC, and since then I've freelanced extensively for comic book publishers including Marvel, DC, and Valiant. I'm probably best known as a cover artist on such titles as X-23, Future Foundation, X-treme X-Men (MAY130734), Bloodshot (DEC121274), R.E.B.E.L.S (MAY100191), Checkmate (FEB080247), Ion (OCT060196), Avengers World (NOV140874), and Marvel Universe. I've also drawn comics featuring Captain America, Legion, Dazzler, and NYX among others.

What are your favorite projects you've contributed to over the past decade?
Checkmate was the first time I was asked to jump onto a series I'd already been reading and enjoying as a fan, so it'll always have a special place in my heart.
NYX: No Way Home was the series I really got to make my mark on. Volume 1 had made a huge impact on me as a reader and an artist, so getting to re-imagine those characters in my own style for Volume 2 was a huge thrill.
X-23 with Marjorie Liu is still the cover run I'm proudest of. Sometimes due to scheduling a cover artist can be somewhat disconnected from the rest of the team, but Marjorie always made me feel like an important part of that book. We would chat about upcoming storylines and as a result I was able to pitch concepts to editorial and design visual themes for each arc.

What are you currently working on?
The brand new Captain Canuck series published by Chapterhouse Comics is at the center of my work life these days. It's a reboot of the classic Canadian flag-wearing Superhero of the 1970s and early '80s (preceding Guardian by four years) originally created by Richard Comely and Ron Leishman. Whatever you may think of the original, we're playing this revamp absolutely straight, giving our Northern Icon a sci-fi background and a military edge. Working on this book has been a non-stop delight, as has collaborating with series artist Leonard Kirk. I'm incredibly lucky that the first scripts I've written for anyone other than me, are getting drawn by an artist of his calibre, and he is killing it, folks. I'm also co-writing season 2 of the Captain Canuck animated web series, episode 1 of which will be dropping on Halloween!

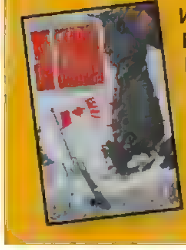
What titles are you currently reading?

Pitiful HUMAN-LIZARD

The Pitiful Human Lizard by Jason Loo. Jason's recently joined the Chapterhouse family and they're reprinting the run to date, but I'd been cheerleading this book since Jason Kickstarted his self-published first issue a year-and-a-half-ago. Somewhere between The Tick and The Jam — with a dash of Optic Nerve (MAR151285) — and set in my hometown of Toronto, it's funny and sad and weird and I love it!

RUSSIAN OLIVE TO RED KING

Russian Olive to Red King (MAR150857) by Kathryn Immonen and Stuart Immonen. Best known for their outstanding Marvel work, these two periodically collaborate on personal works, and here they've crafted a haunting, beautiful, literate, and impressionistic book, that veers into object d'art territory by virtue of sheer gorgeousness. And Stuart can draw an obstinate dog like nobody's business.



We Stand on Guard (AUG158130) by Brian K. Vaughan and Steve Skroce. I love everything Brian Vaughan does, his work is "comics perfection" to me, but a new series from him, that's set in Canada and is dystopic sci-fi, is almost too much awesome to bear! It's everything you'd expect from Vaughan, and if you're Canadian like me, you'll thrill at the parade of local references... without any of the usual back bacon, beavers, mounties, maple syrup, or 'ehs'.

NEW YORK CITY HAS A NEW WALLCRAWLER IN SPIDER-MAN

■ MARVEL PREVIEWS, $3.99, 32 PAGES, PAGE 4

New York City has a brand-new Spider-Man in the post-Secret Wars All-New All-Different Marvel as Miles Morales makes his Marvel Universe debut in February's Spider-Man #1 from Brian Michael Bendis and Sara Pichelli!

Miles Morales has been a hero for a long time, but to the denizens of the Five Buroughs this black-and-red garbed Spider-Man has been on the scene for only a few months. The Avengers — Iron Man, Thor, and Captain America — trust him and have made him an Avenger, but the rest of the city may not be so sure. Miles has to balance the challenges of being a hero with school, family, and the responsibilities of being an Avenger while making sense of a world that is both familiar and startlingly different!

Brian Michael Bendis and Sara Pichelli resume their acclaimed collaboration on Miles Morales that stretches back to his first appearance in Ultimate Fallout in Spider-Man. In addition to exploring Miles' life, friends, and relationships, Bendis and Pichelli will delve into the eight months between the end of Secret Wars and Spider-Man, showing how New York City's new Spider-Man established himself as a hero in the new Marvel universe.

A fan-favorite character, Miles Morales establishes himself as a key character of the Marvel Universe this February in Bendis and Pichelli's new Spider-Man series, and it's one that no Marvel fan will want to miss!

SCIENCE AND MAGIC COLLIDE IN IMAGE COMICS' MIRROR

Over the past few months Image Comics has introduced readers to a new shared sci-fi fantasy universe, 8House. Conceived by Brandon Graham, 8House presents a world in which 8 different magical houses reign. Among the series published in the world of 8House, including Arclight, Emma Rios and Hwei Lim's Mirror will stand out as one in which magic and science collide!

Set around a landed starship and the colony that has grown around it, the magicians of one of the 8 Houses — the House of Healers — have teamed with the starship's scientists on experiments to create hybrids that bridge the gap between man and animal. But these two groups have different reasons for their actions — one seeks to breed warriors to win a cosmic war while the other wishes to live in peace with the world they have found.

The result will be an imaginative and thought-provoking comic when Rios and Lim's Mirror comes your way this January!

One of the most dramatic moments in season 5 of HBO's adaptation of Game of Thrones is when the Night's King, demonic leader of the White Walkers, raises the fallen wildlings in the aftermath of the massacre at Hardhome.

Arms raised as if he is a conductor orchestrating a crescendo, his otherworldly blue eyes demonic as they challenge Jon Snow, it is a pivotal moment in the award-winning saga.

Drawing on the skills of sculptor Dave Cortes, Dark Horse has captured this moment in all its detail.

This limited-edition bust (edition size not yet determined at press time) is sure to be the centerpiece of any Game of Thrones collection.

AL WILLIAMSON'S STAR WARS: THE EMPIRE STRIKES BACK ARTIST'S EDITION HC

writer Archie Goodwin

artist/cover Al Williamson

Al Williamson's career is crammed full of amazing accomplishments: star artist for the EC Comics line while barely in his twenties, drawing the definitive comic-book version of Alex Raymond's Flash Gordon, producing the X-9: Secret Agent Corrigan comic Strip for 10 years, plus many more!

Williamson's classic run on Star Wars: The Empire Strikes Back is legendary among fans of comic art. His heroic adventure style was perfectly suited for the Star Wars franchise—so much so that Williamson was George Lucas' first choice for the Star Wars newspaper comic strip (which he would later go on to draw). This incredible Artist's Edition collects all of Williamson's Empire work, as well as selected pages from Return of the Jedi and other Star Wars pages by this renowned artist. Eventually, both agents left the FBI and began a new life together in peaceful anonymity. However, recent events prompted them to return to the Bureau and the X-Files.

Since then, Mulder has seen his work with the FBI discredited and has found himself a fugitive from the U.S. government—all thanks to the mechanizations of a former ally, Gibson Praise, who now wields powers far beyond even what Mulder can imagine. Not many know about it.
Even less talk about it.
It's one of those things you find by accident.
But why?
Please! If you would just wait a second!
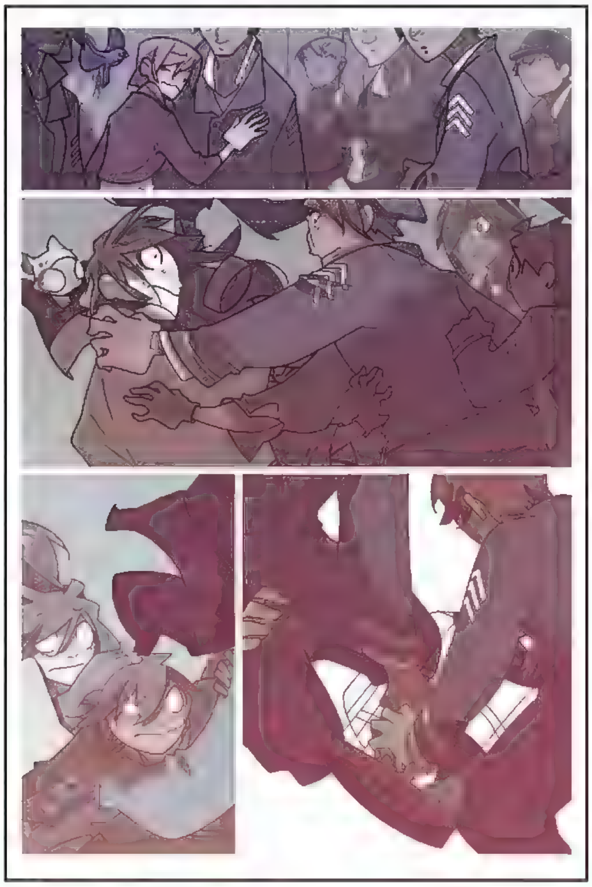
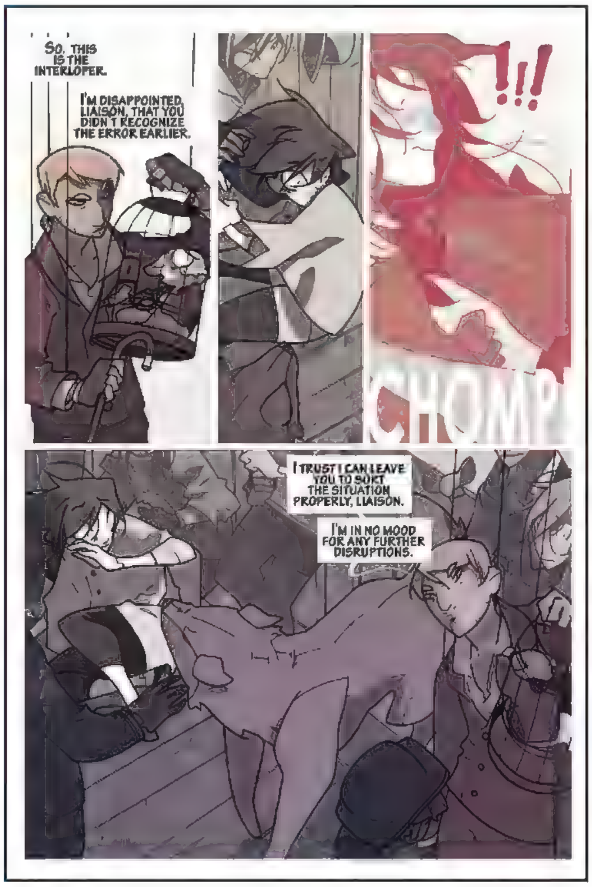
There's no reason we can't be calm about this!
What the BLAZES?!





So. This is the interloper.
I'm disappointed, Liaison, that you didn't recognize the error earlier.

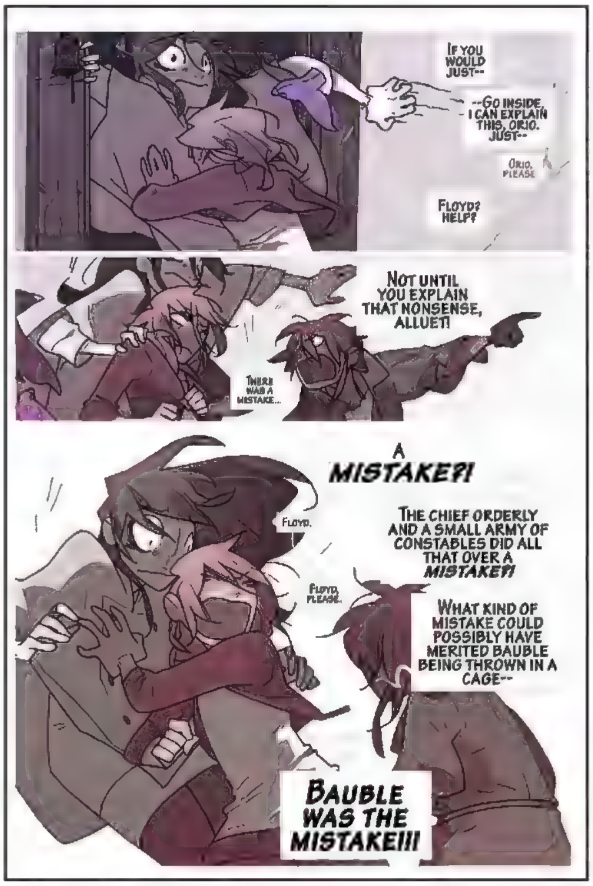
CHOMP
I trust I can leave you to sort the situation properly, Liaison.
I'm in no mood for any further disruptions.



If you would just--
--Go inside. I can explain this, Orio. Just--
Orio, please
Floyd? Help?
Not until you explain that nonsense, Alluet!
There was a mistake...
A MISTAKE?!
Floyd.
The chief orderly and a small army of constables did all that over a MISTAKE?!
Floyd, please.
What kind of mistake could possibly have merited Bauble being thrown in a cage--
Bauble was the mistake!!!

"It's hard to say where the strength of OCTOPUS PIE really is because Meredith can juggle so many things so well—the humor, the natural touch in the dialogue, the relatability of the characters in the world that she has created. There is a complex, empathetic sort of quality to that world and you feel rather at home in it." —Kate Beaton, Hark! A Vagrant

UNSUNG HEROES

Someone once claimed they needed a hero. Someone else said they didn't need another hero. Okay, maybe they were both singing at the time... but when it comes to heroes, we love to sing their praises! And that's just what we're doing this month, "singing" the praises of Comics' UNSUNG HEROES. Sure you've all heard of the Bat, the Spider, the Amazon and that guy from Krypton with the hair. But you may not have heard about these heroes; great characters with cool stories, imaginative artwork, and more than enough room in their fan clubs to add YOU to their rosters! We've got a great selection of UNSUNG HEROES to share with you here, collect them all!

(A/CA) Phil Foglio
The multiple Hugo Award-winning steampunk webcomic, collected in hardcover! The Industrial Revolution has become all-out war! For centuries, the Heterodyne family of inventors kept the peace, but the last Heterodyne disappeared twenty years ago. At Transylvania Polygnostic University, Agatha Clay dreams of being a scientist herself, but her trouble concentrating dooms her to be a lowly minion at best. Swept up to Baron Klaus' Airship City, Agatha finds herself in the midst of the greatest minds of her generation — and she may hold the key to the control of the continent! (STK455296)

AGATHA HETERODYNE AND THE VOICE OF THE CASTLE: A GIRL GENIUS NOVEL SC
(W) Kaja Foglio, Phil Foglio
(CA) Tom Kidd
In the third Girl Genius novel, Agatha Heterodyne returns to her ancestral home, the warped little town of Mechanicsburg. There she must claim her inheritance by convincing the artificial intelligence that animates her family's castle that she is, in fact, the new Heterodyne. But this apparently simple task is made complicated in several ways: An imposter claiming to be the legitimate heir appears. The Empire is convinced that Agatha is the person responsible for the Long War (and to be fair, they are not entirely incorrect). And, worst of all, the Castle itself is insane. (STK694815)

THE LOST SPARK : MASKS AND MONSTERS

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AND AWARD WINNING WRITER J.T. KRUL BRINGS YOU THE SECOND CHAPTER IN THE LOST SPARK SAGA!

Angie MacKensie knows a secret that her friends in high school don't. Toys are magic. That stuffed animal that protected you as you slept. The bulldozer that helped you build an empire in the sandbox. The toy soldier who joined you on covert missions in the backyard. The butterfly princess who taught you how to fly. It was all real, but people forgot. Not Angie, though. She remembered. She found her spark again, and she's not the only one. There are others out in the world that know how to unlock the magic of their most cherished toys, including a boy named Colin, who may or may not be more than a friend.

Angie used to feel alone and empty, especially after the death of her mother, but now she feels alive and energized. And that's a good thing because as the school year begins, she will be forced to deal with more than just the trials and tribulations that come with being a teenager. Angie must confront an all-consuming demon of shadow and darkness that is more terrifying than anything she could possibly imagine.
Beware the Boogeyman! The Lost Spark was just the beginning. Fall is in the air. It's time for Halloween. It's time for Masks and Monsters.

About: Comics horror veteran Mike Wolfer writes and illustrates a powerful new chapter in the Crossed saga! After admitting two women into their defensible stronghold atop a collapsed bridge, an uneasy alliance of survivors discovers just how the women successfully navigated through the horrors on the ground below. They followed the advice of their "bible," a best-selling, "survival guide" novel. Fiction or not, the book could be the answer to saving all of their lives in the wasteland ruled by the maniacal Crossed. But trust in the uninfected can be more dangerous than the violent urges of the Crossed themselves. There is no help, there is no hope. There is only the Crossed. ABOUT: War Comics have long been a staple of the medium and were a major factor in launching superhero comics on the American market, and yet it's true that a pattern of conflict might just be the most consistent trait of the medium across many genres. From sci-fi to Westerns, superhero tales to horror and mystery stories, the conflict between opposing sides, often in the form of protagonist and antagonist, keep our interest and engage our emotions. In this issue of BLEEDING COOL MAGAZINE, RICH JOHNSTON will look back at the role of War Comics, our contributors will survey their current incarnations, and trace this legacy through multiple genres today. This issue will also look at film and gaming traditions that stem from war narratives, and bring you our Price Guide focusing on War Comics. On a bi-monthly release schedule, BLEEDING COOL MAGAZINE delivers an in-depth, themed look at the industry, as well as being packed full of creator-driven interviews only to be found in our print edition.

SCHOOL JUDGEMENT GAKKYU HOTEI VOLUME 1 GN

Viz Media

Modern schooling disciplinarians within the School Judgement Gakkyu Hotei series are at their wits end. Bullying has been on the rise and the increasingly strict institutional punishments only serve to dishearten and break the spirits of the children. Therefore this series' universe has instituted an enormous educational overhaul: the classroom arbitration system! Middle schoolers are trained as lawyers and prosecutors, preschoolers as impartial judges, and all elementary school conflicts are settled in court. Why? Because you can't trust adults.

Manga creator Takeshi Obata, the virtuoso that brought us Death Note [NOV101063], Hikaru No Go [OCT148016], and Bakuman [MAY101165], has returned as the artist on the new series School Judgement Gakkyu Hotei. Picture a mix of school kid battles a la Yu-Gi-Oh and the popular court room drama of Phoenix Wright, and you've got School Judgement Gakkyu Hotei.

This manga, written by newcomer, Nobuaki Enoki, grapples with some weighty topics, but every single one of them empowers kids. There's the value of logic, the complexity of a court system, the burden of deciding guilt or innocence, and the impact of the punitive sentence — all of them determined by and legally binding by a jury of elementary students' peers. Paint it all with Obata's super-dramatic flair and impeccable line work, and the whole package tells the reader: if you think clearly, strive to speak well, and stand up for yourself, you can improve your situation even in the face of the most powerful opponents!

WHAT'S TO LOVE

Just in time for Valentine's Day, Jonesy is a comic about love that makes us swoon! Sam Humphries (Legendary Star Lord, Citizen Jack) and fresh talent Caitlin Rose Boyle (Buck n' Lou & the Night Crew) bring something special to BOOM! Box with this series about madcap shenanigans, friendship, pals, being a teenager, and figuring out who you are...with a teen cupid twist! If you like Giant Days, dig adorkable romance stories, or just want to smile from ear to ear after reading a comic, you'll fall in love with Jonesy!

WHAT IT IS

Jonesy is a self-described "cool dork" who spends her time making zines nobody reads, watching anime, and listening to riot grrrl bands and 1D simultaneously. But she has a secret nobody knows. She has the power to make people fall in love! Anyone. With anything. She's a cupid in plaid. With a Tumblr. There's only one catch—it doesn't work on herself. She's gonna have to find love the old-fashioned way, and in the meantime, figure out how to distract herself from the real emotions she inevitably has to face when her powers go wrong...

WHAT'S TO LOVE

The Steven Universe Cartoon Network animated series has given us a serious case of the feels over and over again, and our first Steven Universe comic series was met with enthusiasm from our fellow fans, so we had to head back to Beach City for more adventures!

WHAT IT IS

Josceline Fenton (Hemlock) and Chrystin Garland (Adventure Time) help keep Beach City weird with this new four-issue miniseries. Steven takes the Gems out for a camping trip and tells them spooky stories around the camp fire. The Gems don't give him much of a reaction, but they do tell him a spooky story of their own about a monster who turns bad Gems into glass and shatters them. Pearl assures a terrified Steven that it's just a story, but suddenly people around Beach City start turning up frozen in glass...

"I am truly honored to be writing Dejah Thoris, a character with such a robust history and celebrated pulp pedigree. I'm a big fan of Edgar Rice Burroughs, and to be able to contribute to the canon of one of his most celebrated characters is really exciting. This is a new start for Dejah Thoris, and I think our story is going to reignite the spark of what makes her great. It's a bold new take that really captures the spirit of Dejah as a dynamic, interesting, and capable character while exploring her past in a way that fans new and old won't expect." – Frank J. Barbiere, Writer

"Dejah Thoris was about playing with themes and the Barsoom aesthetic. Plaited leathers, swooping, organic shaped armour, and gossamer fabrics seemed the right place to start. It was just a matter of playing around with shapes and proportions until it came together." – Nicola Scott, Costume Designer

There is a fifth dimension beyond that which is known to man. It is a dimension as vast as space and as timeless as infinity. It is the middle ground between light and shadow, between science and superstition, and it lies between the pit of man's fears and the summit of his knowledge. This is the dimension of imagination. It is an area which we call the Twilight Zone.

Journey back to where it all began! The year was 1959. The Twilight Zone took over the airwaves, and television was changed forever! Now, Dynamite has recruited three all-star writing talents to craft a unique Twilight Zone story paying homage to where it all began! Including the first Dynamite work by writer Tom Peyer, the return of John Layman, and a tale masterminded by Twilight Zone writer Mark Rahner! Three unique tales, each firmly set in that other dimension… the Twilight Zone!

THROUGH THE HABITRAILS: LIFE BEFORE AND AFTER MY CAREER IN THE CUBICLES SC

(W/A/CA) Jeff Nicholson

This collection of darkly humorous tales chronicles a nameless protagonist's struggle with a stultifying routine of office drudgery. The stories' Kafkaesque vignettes, portrayed in striking black-and-white drawings, offer eerie perspectives on the rigors of everyday life. Through the Habitrails features semi-autobiographical vignettes that include "Futile Love," "The Doomed One," "The Infiltrator," "The Dark Spiral," "The Gerbil King," and the "Escape" trilogy, one part of which was a 1993 Eisner Award nominee. Exclusive Bonus Material contains a new ten page Epilogue, written and illustrated by the author, and a new Foreword by multiple Eisner Award-winner Matt Fraction. (STK694835)

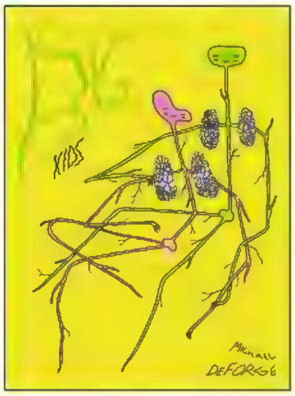
DRAWN & QUARTERLY

BIG KIDS HC

(W) Michael Deforge
(A/CA) Michael DeForge



Teenaged misfits and adolescent rabble-rousing take center stage in this dark coming-of-age tale. Big Kids follows a troubled teenage boy through the transformative years of high school, as he redefines his friends, his interests, and his life path. When the boy's uncle, a police officer, gets kicked out of the family's basement apartment and transferred to the countryside, April moves in. She's a college student: mysterious and cool, she quickly takes a shine to the boy. Eerie and perfectly paced, Michael DeForge's Big Kids muses on the complicated, and often contradictory, feelings people struggle with in adolescence, the choices we make to fit in, and the ways we survive times of change. Like Ant Colony and First Year Healthy, Big Kids is a testimony to the harshness and beauty of being alive. (STK694955)

PUKE FORCE HC

(W/A/CA) Brian Chippendale

Puke Force is social satire written dark and dense across Chippendale's deconstructed multiverse of walking, talking M&Ms, hamsters, and cyclopic-yet-glamorous trivia hosts. He takes on social media narcissism, governmental propaganda, racism, the hypocrisies of the Left, and a culture of violence. Throughout this dystopic graphic novel, Brian Chippendale uses humor and a frantic drawing style to show how the insidious nature of corporate greed and the commodification of everything have warped society into a killing machine. Sardonic and self-aware, Puke Force asks all the right questions, providing a startling and on-point take on contemporary social issues. (STK687610) (C: 0-0-1)

WAS SHE PRETTY? GN (D&Q EDITION)

(W/A/CA) Leanne Shapton

What's left when a relationship ends? Where does jealousy come from? Delicately and sensitively, Leanne Shapton (Swimming Studies) ruminates on ex-lovers, and our lovers' ex-lovers. Shapton introduces the obsessives and the dilettantes, the poets and the actresses, the people with great hair and the people with idiosyncratic clothes. As funny as it is insightful, Was She Pretty? speaks to a central human concern: how do we compare? Elegantly drawn and perfectly narrated, the pages of Was She Pretty? are a testimonial to the power of observation and misapprehension. (STK694958)

ANT COLONY HC

(W/A/CA) Michael DeForge

In the few short years since he began his pamphlet-sized comic book series Lose, Michael DeForge has announced himself as an important new voice in alternative comics. Ant Colony follows the denizens of a black ant colony under attack from the nearby red ants. On the surface, it's the story of this war, the destruction of a civilization, and the ants' all-too-familiar desire to rebuild. Underneath, though, Ant Colony plumbs the deepest human concerns — loneliness, faith, love, apathy, and more. All of this is done with humor and sensitivity, exposing a world where spiders can wreak unimaginable amounts of havoc with a single gnash of their jaws. (STK627922)

FIRST YEAR HEALTHY HC

(W/A/CA) Michael DeForge

First Year Healthy purports to be the story of a young woman, recently released from the hospital after an outburst, and her burgeoning relationship with an odd, perhaps criminal Turkish immigrant. In a scant 48 pages, working with a vibrant, otherworldly palette of magentas, yellows, and grays, Michael DeForge brings to life a world whose shifting realities are as treacherous as the thin ice its narrator walks on. First Year Healthy is all it appears to be and more: a parable about mental illness, a folk tale about magical cats, and a bizarre, compelling story about relationships. (STK659925) (C: 0-1-1)

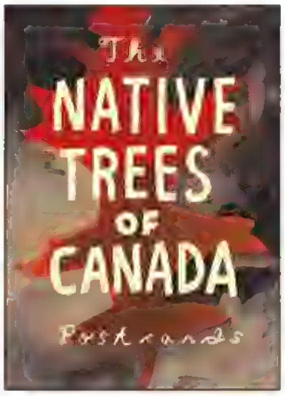
THE NATIVE TREES OF CANADA SC (NEW PRINTING)

(W/A/CA) Leanne Shapton

Renowned artist and designer Leanne Shapton has taken a century-old book and reinterpreted it in a series of bold, painted images. Shapton takes the otherwise complex objects of trees and strips them down into stark, almost abstract shapes and colors. She distills each subject into its simplest form, using vivid colors in lush gouache paint and her passion is evident in each painting. (STK425660)

SC, 7x10, 96pgs, FC.................. $19.95



THE NATIVE TREES OF CANADA: A POSTCARD SET

(A) Leanne Shapton

Leanne Shapton's bold, vibrant watercolor portraits of the trees of Canada come to new life in this postcard set. The lively hues of the garry oak and the simple elegance of the staghorn sumac are perfectly presented in a beautiful keepsake box, great as a gift for a friend or yourself! This set of postcards collects thirty of Shapton's spirited and singular drawings of the native trees of Canada. (STK681805) (C: 0-1-1)

4x6, FC $14.95

SUNDAY NIGHT MOVIES SC

(W/A/CA) Leanne Shapton

Sunday Night Movies features Leanne Shapton's watercolors of resonant moments in black-and-white cinema. Selecting a brief fragment of each chosen film, she creates an indelible image that is both a hand-painted movie still and a personal response to a fleeting celluloid moment. Shapton's journey through film history becomes a wistful celebration of the subtle moments in stories, which can often slip by unnoticed. What could be a simple title, still life, or portrait of an actor becomes both illusive and allusive through the medium of these personal paintings. (STK618464)

THE BADGER #1 (OF 5)

Devils Due / First Comics

The classic First Comics Badger was insane... but it wasn't all his fault. I'd consider him at least partially functional. He was able to keep a steady job as a bodyguard despite all his many issues. As a boy his father left his family, his new step father beat him, his military service scarred him, and on top of that he has a handful of multiple personalities ranging from a little girl named Emily, a homicidal maniac with a French accent named Pierre, to a dog named Leroy. All of these personalities plus a few more are taking up residence inside his skull and clawing for their chance to get out making the Badger dangerous and unpredictable for friend and foe alike.

Did I mention that the guy that hired him to be his body guard is a Wizard named Hammaglystwythkbrngxxaxolotl? You can call him "Ham" for short. Ham's a bad man. 1500 years ago Ham was forced into a coma by his fellow Wizards after he had built up a reputation for sacrificing children in his castle. After waking up from his beauty sleep he's toned it down a little bit and paid his debt to society but with great wizard powers comes a great wizard lifestyle. To pay for that lifestyle Ham uses all his magics to make money anyway he can. Sometimes demons and monsters take offense to his methods and that's where having a multiple personality, karate master, masked vigilante named Badger at his beck and call can come in handy for the Ham man.

Be sure to check out the next chapter of The Badger next February from Devil's Due / First Comics, writer and Badger creator Mike Baron (Star Wars: The Last Command, Nexus), and artist Jim Fern (Crossing Midnight, Scion).

SCHOOL JUDGEMENT GAKKYU HOTEI VOLUME 1 GN

Viz Media

Modern schooling disciplinarians within the School Judgement Gakkyu Hotei series are at their wits end. Bullying has been on the rise and the increasingly strict institutional punishments only serve to dishearten and break the spirits of the children. Therefore this series' universe has instituted an enormous educational overhaul: the classroom arbitration system! Middle schoolers are trained as lawyers and prosecutors, preschoolers as impartial judges, and all elementary school conflicts are settled in court. Why? Because you can't trust adults.

Manga creator Takeshi Obata, the virtuoso that brought us Death Note [NOV101063], Hikaru No Go [OCT148016], and Bakuman [MAY101165], has returned as the artist on the new series School Judgement Gakkyu Hotei. Picture a mix of school kid battles a la Yu-Gi-Oh and the popular court room drama of Phoenix Wright, and you've got School Judgement Gakkyu Hotei.

This manga, written by newcomer, Nobuaki Enoki, grapples with some weighty topics, but every single one of them empowers kids. There's the value of logic, the complexity of a court system, the burden of deciding guilt or innocence, and the impact of the punitive sentence — all of them determined by and legally binding by a jury of elementary students' peers. Paint it all with Obata's super-dramatic flair and impeccable line work, and the whole package tells the reader: if you think clearly, strive to speak well, and stand up for yourself, you can improve your situation even in the face of the most powerful opponents!

THE SHADOW HERO GN

(W) Gene Luen Yang (A/CA) Sonny Liew

In the comics boom of the 1940s, a legend was born: the Green Turtle. He solved crimes and fought injustice just like the other comics characters. But this mysterious masked crusader was hiding something more than your run-of-the-mill secret identity; the Green Turtle was the first Asian American super hero. The comic had a short run before lapsing into obscurity, but the acclaimed author of American Born Chinese, Gene Luen Yang, has finally revived this character in Shadow Hero, a new graphic novel that creates an origin story for the Green Turtle. JOE BOOKS

This is the first Disney Princess comic book that we've seen in years. What can we expect from this new series?

Disney Princesses are very dear to my heart, and this new comic is first and foremost about bringing genuine fun and comedy to the Disney Princesses and their worlds. The princesses are constantly promoted for their virtues—kindness, bravery, loyalty, compassion, and curiosity. But what this comic is going to remind everyone is that while the princesses are indeed all of these things, they're also hilarious! A princess can be silly, and fun, and a bit of a nerd with her friends and family.

You've been working with Disney characters for years. How did you start working for Disney?

I started at Disney in 1999 at Disney Animation Australia as an inbetweener—that's an artist who finishes the animation once the main animators have set all of the character acting in place. From there I moved into comics, doing lots of Pixar and Muppets comics for Boom! Studios, then storybooks, then fine art, and recently I've added some Disney toy design as well.

Your fan base is pretty huge right now. Will your fans recognize your usual style in the new comic book? Or will this be a new direction for you?

Anyone familiar with my online Disney fancomic will recognize the art in this new comic instantly. I've been fortunate to be approved to bring a cuter, more comedic "chibi" style to the Disney Princesses, as you can see on the cover! This will definitely appeal to new and young readers, as well as to older Disney fans. Whereas my online work focuses solely on the Disney Princesses, this new comic brings not only them, but their whole worlds into the laugh factory. So expect Beasts, crabs, horses, chameleons, jazz-playing gators, fairies, and yeah, maybe the odd prince.

160 Pages, $19.99, RELEASE DATE: 04/13/16

But when a firefight between the LAPD and the MS-13 goes wrong, Paul and Nick find themselves on the run.

From Marc Guggenheim (CW's Arrow and Legends of Tomorrow) and Justin Greenwood (Stumptown, The Fuse) comes an action-packed story about crime, corruption, and the perfect shot.

Guggenheim and collaborator Justin Greenwood (Stumptown) drop the hammer on this fascinating glimpse behind the scenes of digital-age parachute journalism, providing a refreshing, unabashedly energetic look at crime fiction."

When he started making comics in Singapore as a boy of 16 in 1954, Chan expected fame and fortune to quickly follow. But just as Singapore's road to independence would be full of twists and turns, so too would Chan's own journey as an artist. Splicing together a dizzying array of art styles, genres and forms, Sonny Liew's multilayered graphic novel is a celebration of life, comics and storytelling. The Art of Charlie Chan Hock Chye is an innovative work that challenges the possibilities of the comics medium, creating a double-edged history. (STK694415)

WRAITHBORN #1

Benitez Productions

Throughout history, we have been guarded by a brotherhood of warriors. Unbeknownst to mankind, their sole purpose on this Earth is to protect humanity from demonic entities that possess human hosts. Using an arcane power to fight the beasts, the brotherhood passes their gifts from generation to generation, so that we may sleep safe at night without ever knowing that the world is in danger.

Hot on the heels of the bombastic return of Lady Mechanika, Benitez Productions rolls out another grandiose tale with the return of Wraithborn #1. Originally published through Wildstorm, Joe Benitez and crew revamped the entire series for an all-new experience.

Developed by Marcia Chen and Joe Benitez, Wraithborn follows Melanie Moore from Marinette, Louisiana, a reserved high schooler struggling to take care of her father. Things don't go Melanie's way, especially once she is given an all-powerful burden that she didn't want nor earn. The power of Wraithborn is given to only the sturdiest and most powerful warriors, so why is she chosen as the successor?

Joe Benitez brings the level of artistic talent to the page that you would expect from one of the industry's greats. Benitez's amazing character design is on full display, as the world is fleshed out with horrifying creatures and empowering heroes. Complimented by inks from Joe Weems & Ryan Winn, colors from Studio F, and background pencils from Martin Montiel and Mun Kao Tan, Wraithborn #1 is a complete package of comic book ingenuity.

ARCHIE VOLUME 1 TP

Archie Comics

In October 2013 Archie Comics recaptured my attention with Afterlife with Archie. I had read a lot of the press surrounding the book but was worried that the series would read just like any other zombie title. I was wrong and I am so glad I was. Afterlife was amazing and I quickly realized I needed to start keeping an eye on what Archie Comics was doing. They were taking risks with their classic characters and striking gold. Not too long after picking up Afterlife I added The Chilling Adventures of Sabrina to my box at my local shop but I was still only reading the Archie Horror titles. I hadn't really jumped back on board with Riverdale because I wasn't reading the main series. That changed this year when Mark Waid (Kingdom Come) and Fiona Staples (Saga) were charged with the task of rebooting the classic Archie series into the present day.

You won't need to know decades of history to jump into this title. Mark Waid has given each of the classic characters a fresh start taking the time to cleanly reintroduce and redefine each of them with their own voice. Fiona Staples' art especially shines whenever Archie is deep in a soliloquy speaking to the audience as our guide to Riverdale. It is in these moments that Fiona's expressive pencils are the only force that allows the characters surrounding Archie to speak through their body language such as the hesitation of Betty as Archie monologues about their recent breakup. She wants to speak to her lifelong friend but she can't find the words and is crushed when he doesn't notice her predicament.

If you have not jumped back on board with the new ongoing Archie series be sure to pick up the collected trade out this February! People say that you cannot go home again but thanks to Mark Waid and Fiona Staples you can go back to Riverdale.

Often selling for hundreds of dollars each, these rare publications bridged Frazetta's exodus from traditional comics, to his now-legendary Conan, and Death Dealer paintings. Now, in an affordable volume, Vanguard presents the most complete collection ever, of rare, vintage, Sensuous Frazetta. (STK694413)

PUKE FORCE

Drawn & Quarterly

Brian Chippendale, the man behind Maggots, Ninja, and If n' Oof, is at it again with Puke Force, a graphic novel of single page comic strips that are as scathing and dark as they are hilarious.

With a name like Puke Force you go in expecting a degree of silliness and discomfort, but the surprise is its intellectual observations of pop culture absurdities, the vanity of social media, and the realities of government propaganda. Behind the shaky line art and the wild characters runs a harsh indictment of racism, consumerism, and corporate greed. But it also lightens things up with intensely detailed set pieces that feel something like a "Where's Waldo?" book written by and for the criminally insane.

These pages are chaotic and dense with wit often hidden away in little corners of rooms or far away in fields lathered in crazy. Subtle conversations between story extras or signs that either make no sense or just a little too much sense are just a few of the kinds of gems you will go hunting for, panning over the pages with your index finger like a kid trying to find Waldo's hat.

Chippendale will make you laugh even as he makes you profoundly uncomfortable. The inked art vibrates as if it were drawn on a napkin perched on a bass amp. The content, jokes, and general rudeness of the book chafe against the warped values of modern living, the true cost of self-actualizing through possessions, and wildly imply a feeling that we might all just be living it up on a booze-cruise careening off the edge of the world. Puke Force reads like a case study of Brian Chippendale's own mind even as it analyzes the world we all have to share.

SKETCHBOOK: GATIGNOL

(W/A/CA) Bertrand Gatignol
Bertrand Gatignol divides his time between character design for animated TV shows, comics (Les Ogres-Dieux with Hubert, Pistouvi with Merwan Chabane), and illustration of children's books. This sketchbook is an opportunity to enter his eclectic and varied world. His mastery of black and white is superb! Majestic architecture full of details, vibrant sets and powerful black inks, associated with delicate lines, paradoxically offer a bright artwork in a dark atmosphere. Upon his shoulders lay a heavy burden, for to prevent their own self-annihilation; the Flesh Tearers must not only fight their many foes but their very nature itself. (STK696095) (C: 0-1-2)

ARCHIE VOLUME 1 TP

Archie Comics

In October 2013 Archie Comics recaptured my attention with Afterlife with Archie. I had read a lot of the press surrounding the book but was worried that the series would read just like any other zombie title. I was wrong and I am so glad I was. Afterlife was amazing and I quickly realized I needed to start keeping an eye on what Archie Comics was doing. They were taking risks with their classic characters and striking gold. Not too long after picking up Afterlife I added The Chilling Adventures of Sabrina to my box at my local shop but I was still only reading the Archie Horror titles. I hadn't really jumped back on board with Riverdale because I wasn't reading the main series. That changed this year when Mark Waid (Kingdom Come) and Fiona Staples (Saga) were charged with the task of rebooting the classic Archie series into the present day.

You won't need to know decades of history to jump into this title. Mark Waid has given each of the classic characters a fresh start taking the time to cleanly reintroduce and redefine each of them with their own voice. Fiona Staples' art especially shines whenever Archie is deep in a soliloquy speaking to the audience as our guide to Riverdale. It is in these moments that Fiona's expressive pencils are the only force that allows the characters surrounding Archie to speak through their body language such as the hesitation of Betty as Archie monologues about their recent breakup. She wants to speak to her lifelong friend but she can't find the words and is crushed when he doesn't notice her predicament.

If you have not jumped back on board with the new ongoing Archie series be sure to pick up the collected trade out this February. People say that you cannot go home again but thanks to Mark Waid and Fiona Staples you can go back to Riverdale.

PUKE FORCE

Drawn & Quarterly

Brian Chippendale, the man behind Maggots, Ninja, and If n' Oof, is at it again with Puke Force, a graphic novel of single page comic strips that are as scathing and dark as they are hilarious.

With a name like Puke Force you go in expecting a degree of silliness and discomfort, but the surprise is its intellectual observations of pop culture absurdities, the vanity of social media, and the realities of government propaganda. Behind the shaky line art and the wild characters runs a harsh indictment of racism, consumerism, and corporate greed. But it also lightens things up with intensely detailed set pieces that feel something like a "Where's Waldo?" book written by and for the criminally insane.

These pages are chaotic and dense with wit often hidden away in little corners of rooms or far away in fields lathered in crazy. Subtle conversations between story extras or signs that either make no sense or just a little too much sense are just a few of the kinds of gems you will go hunting for, panning over the pages with your index finger like a kid trying to find Waldo's hat.

Chippendale will make you laugh even as he makes you profoundly uncomfortable. The inked art vibrates as if it were drawn on a napkin perched on a bass amp. The content, jokes, and general rudeness of the book chafe against the warped values of modern living, the true cost of self-actualizing through possessions, and wildly imply a feeling that we might all just be living it up on a booze-cruise careening off the edge of the world. Puke Force reads like a case study of Brian Chippendale's own mind even as it analyzes the world we all have to share.

SCHOOL JUDGEMENT GAKKYU HOTEI VOLUME 1 GN

Viz Media

Modern schooling disciplinarians in the School Judgement Gakkyu Hotei series are at their wits end. Bullying has been on the rise and the increasingly strict institutional punishments only serve to dishearten and break the spirits of the children. Therefore this series' universe has instituted an enormous educational overhaul: the classroom arbitration system! Middle schoolers are trained as lawyers and prosecutors, preschoolers as impartial judges, and all elementary school conflicts are settled in court. Why? Because you can't trust adults.

This manga, written by newcomer Nobuaki Enoki, grapples with weighty topics, but every single one of them empowers kids. There's the value of logic, the complexity of a court system, the burden of deciding guilt or innocence, and the impact of the punitive sentence — all of them determined by and legally binding by a jury of elementary students' peers. Paint it all with Takeshi Obata's super-dramatic flair and impeccable line work, and the whole package tells the reader: if you think clearly, strive to speak well, and stand up for yourself, you can improve your situation even in the face of the most powerful opponents.

First Second

315,360,000 SECONDS AND COUNTING:

:01 FIRST SECOND BOOKS' 10TH ANNIVERSARY

Ten years ago, a small publisher with a clever name quietly came onto the comics scene and began doing what they do best: releasing graphic novels for every age and interest. In the decade since their debut, First Second Books has amassed quite a library of titles, from traditional graphic novels to projects featuring more experimental storytelling techniques. They've published works by new creators as well as established veterans, and each release has been a labor of love.

This month, in honor of their 10th Anniversary in publishing, PREVIEWS spoke with Mark Siegel, First Second Editorial Director, and Gina Gagliano, First Second Associate Marketing and Publicity Manager, about their beginnings, their history, and where they're headed in the years to come.

FLIPside

PREVIEWS: It's First Second's tenth anniversary — congratulations! How has the past decade been for you?

Mark Siegel: An astonishing journey — we've learned so much! We've learned from our successes, which have been numerous and paradigm-shifting, but also from our mistakes — which often occur when we've lost sight of the values and ideals that drive our company. Every year that goes by reinforces for all of us that the foundational premise of First Second is sturdy and true and will sustain this company into ever new heights. Although we're finishing our first decade at a point of phenomenal success, we're also aware of how much is yet left to accomplish, and excited for the challenge ahead. I'd like to say that my own decade has progressed with more attention to our authors and more support for their process.

Gina Gagliano: We've had a pretty amazing decade! First Second has published 156 graphic novels, all by fantastic authors and illustrators — and our books have really reached new readers for the graphic novel medium.

P: For people who don't know First Second, tell us a little about your company.

MS: First Second is an experiment — a bold venture in publishing creator-owned author-driven graphic novels that really speak to every person who loves books and reading. Our graphic novels are high quality, with the highest standards of editorial, design, and production. And though we pride ourselves on the quality of the books we publish, story comes first. We publish graphic novels that have been described by many as belonging to 'the new mainstream' — thoroughly readable, accessible, and broadly interesting titles for readers of every stripe.

GG: First Second publishes graphic novels — and only graphic novels, no prose or pamphlet comics. We publish across all three age categories — kids, teenagers, and adults — and we publish across just about every genre that exists; fiction, non-fiction, science fiction, memoir, mystery, etc. Our goal is to publish at least one graphic novel that will appeal to each person who enjoys reading. We publish between twenty and thirty graphic novels a year, making the kinds of books that people want to give a permanent place on their bookshelves.

P: You've been publishing lots of comics for kids. What inspired you to make books for that age category?

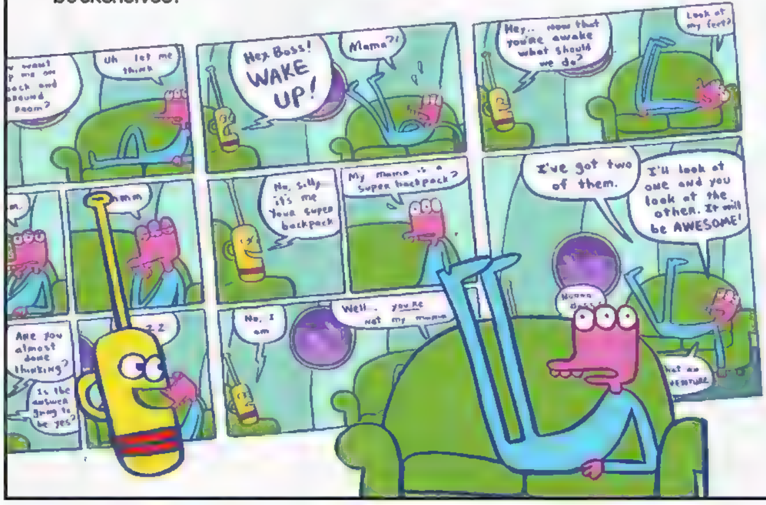
MS: This has been part of our mission from the start — raising the next generation of discerning comics readers by offering them wonderful things (or any things at all) to read. Although now the children's graphic novel business is thriving, at the time we began publishing, children were actually the most neglected readership in comics.

GG: Publishing authors like Ben Hatke, Dave Roman, Vera Brosgol, Gene Luen Yang, and George O'Connor and getting fan mail from kids has been an amazing experience. It's wonderful how excited kids can get about books — they can change their whole lives! And now graphic novels are a part of that.

P: And you also publish graphic novels for adults — tell us about that.

MS: The adult portion of our list is vital to the creative identity of First Second. In today's market, graphic novels for adult readers tend to fall into deeply idiosyncratic territory on one hand, or superhero fare for adult fans on the other. Our mission with our adult list is to publish high-interest fiction and nonfiction in every genre for a wide array of readers — whether comics readers or not.

GG: We're so thrilled to be publishing graphic novels like Scott McCloud's The Sculptor (DEC141525), Box Brown's Andre the Giant (MAR141195), Emmanuel Guibert and Didier Lefevre's The Photographer (MAR094261), and Feynman (JUL111111) by Jim Ottaviani and Leland Myrick. Adults deserve to have as wide of a variety in their potential graphic novel reading as they can get in their prose reading!



Uh let me think
Hey Boss! WAKE UP!

P: What does your name, 'First Second,' mean?

MS: The split interval before time begins — a moment of possibility and endless potential. Everything begins with the first second.

P: Tell us about some significant moments in First Second's history.

MS: One of the first big moments for First Second was in our first year, when Gene Luen Yang's American Born Chinese (NOV118144) was named a finalist for the National Book Award — in the first week it was on sale! We'd barely put this book out in the world and already it was getting attention on a level we'd never imagined. Of course, the internet started talking about the National Book Foundation's decision to consider a graphic novel for the first time ever — and it took off from there. EVERYONE heard about this book.

GG: Getting to work with the amazing authors and illustrators who are publishing books with us — it's really all great moments. We're really privileged that we get to work with these fantastically talented creators.

P: What are the First Second offices like?

MS: A beehive of excitement and industry where passionate creators use every skill they possess to aid the efforts of a host of remarkable authors and artists! Although our staff is small, we've got the most enthusiasm of any publisher out there. We've got lots of art on the walls and lots of books on the shelves of our library.

GG: We're very busy! We've got a lot of graphic novels to be editing and designing and getting out into the world, and we put a lot of time and energy into giving each one our very best effort.

P: How did you get started reading graphic novels?

MS: As a child, I loved all the usual French children's comics — Asterix, Tintin, etc. — but my passion for the form deepened when I met one of my heroes, Moebius. I was lucky enough to have him as a mentor as a young artist.

GG: I started reading graphic novels when I was in college! I was looking for books to read in my college library, and this medium is what I found. I really owe a debt to my school, because that reading experience has shaped my entire career. I'm so glad that libraries (and colleges!) all over the US are now really embracing graphic novels, so readers coming to comics late in life like I did can have access to them.

P: What makes First Second different from other comic/graphic novel publishers?

MS: First Second straddles the line between comics publishing and book publishing — this gives us some insight into the market that houses with a focus on a single market may lack. We publish books for an extremely wide and varied readership, through many channels. And we publish books that really mean something to the people who make them — graphic novels with heart.

GG: First Second has a very specific mission — to reach the general reading public with graphic novels. I really think that gives us a different perspective on both how we publish books and what books we publish. We're really privileged that our parent company, Macmillan, supports us in this goal.

P: First Second graphic novels have a reputation for winning awards! What's your secret?

MS: Our mission here at First Second is to encourage authors to fulfill the promise of their own projects. We really put our hearts into the editorial process, not cutting any corners, and we only publish books we truly love.

GG: We're really lucky to have been a part of some groundbreaking moments in graphic novel award history — starting with Gene Luen Yang's American Born Chinese, which was the first ever graphic novel that was a finalist for the National Book Award. It then went on to be the first ever graphic novel to win the Printz Award, the award given by the American Library Association for the best young adult book that year. This past year, we were thrilled to learn that Mariko Tamaki and Jillian Tamaki's This One Summer (MAR141197) was the first ever graphic novel to be a Caldecott Honor title. We're so glad that our graphic novels are reaching new readers through these awards — and being introduced to teachers, librarians, kids and adults all over the US because of them.

P: What are some First Second series we should catch up on?

MS: We love Last Man (Vol. 1: The Stranger—JAN151468), a manga-inspired French adventure series for adult readers that we're importing in the US. It's dynamic and contagious and an all-around joy. The Chronicles Of Claudette Volume 1: Giants Beware! (FEB121035) by Jorge Aguirre and Rafael Rosado, Olympians (Vol. 1: Zeus—NOV090797) by George O'Connor, and Glorkian Warrior (Vol. 1—JAN141196) by James Kochalka, three great series for kids, are big hits in my own home.

GG: Gene Luen Yang and Mike Holmes are doing this exciting new series for kids called Secret Coders (Vol. 1 —JUL151363). The second volume is just going to the printer now (it'll be out in August), and it's wonderful! This series combines comics and computer programming, in an Encyclopedia Brown puzzle-solving sort of way — and we're getting e-mails from kids and adults telling us that this book taught them how to count in binary. And it will! I was 100% taught how to count in binary by these graphic novels. On top of that, we're going to start an all-new series in 2016 that combines all that's awesome and nerdy about science and all that's wonderful about comics: Science Comics! We'll have graphic novels about dinosaurs, coral reefs, and volcanos coming your way this year.

P: First Second has a reputation for publishing international material. What inspired that?

MS: Growing up in France, comics were a vital part of my childhood. The comics scene in France, as many know, is diverse, robust, and extremely well-respected. It has given rise to a rich body of work, much of which is perfect for the US market. Moving to the U.S. in college, I was inspired to make comics a similar part of our culture here.

GG: With the advent of the internet, cultural doors have really opened around the world — and other countries are closer to us than ever. We're so glad that we can share those new perspectives and viewpoints with readers in the United States. Helping people understand each other better is something we feel is one of the most vital missions of literature, and publishing international material is one of the best ways to do this.

P: Where do you see the future of the graphic novel market in the US?

MS: My mission in founding First Second, with the aid of our publisher at Macmillan, John Sargent, was to bring graphic novels to the general reading public in America, providing books for readers of all tastes and interests. In the future, we plan to continue this work by helping break the graphic novel out of the strict category that many place it in by default.

GG: It's our hope that one day, every home will have at least one graphic novel on their bookcase — and hopefully more than that! Graphic novels are awesome, and people in the US from every walk of life are now discovering that — in the future, everyone from pre-schoolers to grandparents all across the country, from every background and career are going to be reading comics.

P: Where do you see First Second ten years in the future?

MS: An editorial home like no other — a publisher operating within an entirely different reading landscape in the US, where graphic novels are as embraced and ubiquitous as any other form of reading. Here at First Second, our dream is to be a bridge across borders between formats and mediums and industries and fields of publishing, creating a financial landscape that supports thriving career possibilities for graphic novelists.

GG: And continuing to publish wonderful graphic novels, of course!

P: What do First Second fans have to look forward to in your anniversary year?

MS: More of the same — lots of high quality graphic novels.

GG: We're publishing some amazing books, including a new graphic trilogy by Faith Erin Hicks, The Nameless City; Something New, a non-fiction memoir by Lucy Knisley; and Ben Hatke is adapting (and modernizing) the classic fairy tale "Jack and the Beanstalk" in Mighty Jack. We can't wait for you all to read these books!

P: Recommend some great First Second graphic novels to us!

MS: Of course there are the classics that many First Second readers will know and love already — American Born Chinese, by Gene Luen Yang, Laika (JUL073580) by Nick Abadzis, The Unsinkable Walker Bean (AUG138226) by Aaron Renier, and This One Summer by Mariko Tamaki and Jillian Tamaki. But one of my favorite gems in our library is Jay Hosler's Last of the Sandwalkers (FEB151450). I think this graphic novel of epic of adventure starring a delightful cast of insect characters represents one of the core values of First Second — great storytelling.

GG: I love Ben Hatke's wonderful graphic novel Little Robot (JUL151359) — it's a fantastic story about making a friend for the first time — which is further complicated by said friend being a just-started-existing robot. I also think that Faith Erin Hicks' Friends with Boys (AUG151701) is marvelous — and it's the most fun to pitch to people! It's got girls and ghosts and a mysterious possibly undead magical sea captain/pirate hand.
